A Trip To Mars.

Oh, by and by we shall hear the cry:
"This is the way to Mars;
Come take a trip on the morning ship;
It sails by the Isle of Stars."
"A glorious view of planets new
We promise by night and day;
Past dying suns our good ship runs,
And we pause at the Milky Way."
I am almost sure that we will take that tour
Together, my dear, my dear;
Forever have we, by land and sea,
Gone journeying far and near.
Out over the deeps, up mountain steep,
We have traveled mile on mile.
And to sail away to the Martian Bay—
Oh, that were a trip worth while!
Our ship will race through seas of space
Up into the Realm of Light.
Till the whirling ball of the Earth grows
small,
And is utterly lost to sight.
Thro' the nebulous spawn, where planets
are born,
We will pass with sails well furled,
And with eager eyes we will scan the skies
For the sight of a new-made world.
From the derelict barque of a sun gone
dark,
Adrift in our fair ship's path,
A beacon star shall guide us afar
And afar from the Comet's wrath.
Oh, many a start of pulse and heart
We have felt at the sight of land;
But what would we do if the dream
came true
And we sighted the Martian strand?
So, if some day you come and say,
"They are sailing to Mars, I hear,"
I want you to know I am ready to go,—
All ready, my dear, my dear.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past 10 years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by all druggists.

The following story is sent from Eau Claire, Wis.: On the farm of Silver Johnson, two miles South of the city, while two men were blasting out stumps and had their backs turned a poodle dog swallowed two sticks of dynamite. Acting as though he had swallowed a bottle of patent medicine the dog made its way to a gray mule grazing near. He bit the mule on the leg, and the latter responded with a swift kick that landed hard on the dog's stomach. The result of the kick was an explosion that blew the dog to atoms and which threw the mule 50 feet into the air. In his downward flight the mule landed on a strawstack and escaped uninjured. The explosion threw the granary down and broke all the windows in one side of the house.

Quinsey, Sprains and Swellings Cured.

"In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quinsey. My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was alright," says Mrs. L. Cousins, Otterburn, Mich. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valuable for sprains and swellings. For sale by all druggists.

Acting Secretary of War Oliver has received a telegram from Assistant Secretary Latta, who is with President Roosevelt, directing him to suspend action in the matter of cutting down any historical trees in the botanic grounds to make a site for the Grant statue until President Roosevelt returns to Washington.

No home is so pleasant, regardless of the comforts that money will buy as when the entire family is in perfect health. A bottle of Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup costs 50 cents. It will cure every member of the family of constipation, sick headache or stomach trouble. Penny's Drug Store.

Congressman Owsley Stanley denies that the Democrats have no platform, adding that it stands behind the court house at Georgetown. It is the platform that Caleb Powers will stand on when he gets his just deserts, so long delayed.—Frankfort Journal.

The beautiful fall weather continues.

Senator McCreary's Plea For Democracy.

There is no discount on the Democracy of Senator James B. McCreary. For 30 or 40 years he has never failed to raise his voice and cast his vote for the Democratic nominees and those who fondly hoped that he would now go back on the splendid record of a life time, were mistaken in the man.
He spoke at Winchester Saturday and at Nicholasville Monday and in his incomparable manner told of Republican failure and Democratic successes and urged the retention in power of the party that had done all for the advancement of Kentucky that had ever been done. All the nominees of the campaign, he said, measure up to the Jeffersonian standard, that they are honest and capable and will perform the public duties faithfully. He contrasted present conditions of peace and prosperity with those that existed under Republican rule, when, he said, cannon were planted in the yard of the State house, loaded to shoot down the citizens of the State when the soldiers of the State supplanted the civil authority and martial law was declared.

The Senator took occasion to pay a beautiful tribute to the Confederate soldiers, of whose number he is a gallant survivor, and urged them to vote so that the bugle note would go forth from Kentucky that all is well and at the same time show Mr. Willson that he mistook the calibre of the men who fought for the cause they loved when he says that 80 per cent. of them will vote for the party of assassination and mixed schools.

The Senator has lost none of his old time vigor of speech and his latest utterances will increase the already great admiration in which he is held. They show that he is above petty pique and a Democrat under all circumstances whether he is the standard bearer or a private in the ranks, and his speeches will be worth many votes for the ticket.

For 30 years or more we supported all the political aspirations of Senator McCreary and at no time have we ever felt prouder of him than now. He is that noblest work of God, an honest man, a Democrat of purest type and has done a great deal for the State which in honoring him honored herself.—Frankfort Journal.

All the children of the town will be made welcome. The Pastor.

Good crowds are attending the meeting at the Baptist church and Rev. J. A. Taylor, of Shelbyville, Tenn., who is assisting the pastor, Rev. J. Murray Taylor, is preaching some interesting sermons. He is a very earnest speaker and has a splendid understanding of Bible truths. Several have professed religion and a number have asked to be prayed for. The services are held at 10 A. M. and 7 P. M. and you are invited to attend them.

How to Cure a Cold.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all druggists.

The little town is enthusiastic over the latest turn of affairs. A citizen, after five years' absence in California, returned to the town and subscribed $1,000.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now 83 years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by Penny, the druggist. 50c.

"Miss Ethel," he began, "or Ethel," I mean. I've known you long enough to drop the Miss, haven't I?"

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Mr. Fariss and wife are delighted at the change in her condition.

THE real refreshment and recreation of seeing a clean, genial, wholesome play, which is also powerful and thrilling, should make all theater-goers greatly interested in the coming engagement of Fred G. Conrad's company here in "Monte Cristo." Public favor for this superb example of the romantic melodrama is perennial, and it is gratifying because "Monte Cristo" represents all that is worthy in stage entertainment. It appeals in a fascinating manner to the imagination and it feeds the hunger we all have for romance. It is a series of memorable pictures as presented by Fred G. Conrad's company, using the dramatization made by one of the best of Monte Cristo stars, Eugene Moore. There are five acts in the play as given by Mr. Conrad's company. He brings an unusual quantity of special scenery. See the performance at Walton's Opera House to-night, Friday, Oct. 25.

THERE will be only one ticket for councilmen in the good city of Stanford to be voted for at the election Tuesday week, Nov. 5. The other, known as the "New," has these gentlemen on it: W. B. McKinney, J. C. McClary, J. R. Beazley, Mark Hardin, George B. Sauley and Ed Wilkinson. Both were presented by petition to County Clerk Cooper to be placed on the ballots, but when he found that in several instances the same persons had petitioned both tickets, and the law providing that where such is the case the names are stricken from both, and the "Old" board being short of petitioners after the "cleansing," he decided that the "New" should be the one to go on the ballots.
